

You want to become a Mobile Developer at ambiotex?

We are looking for a mobile app developer (m/f/d) for our office in Berlin-Schönefeld, who will develop and implement the ambiotex mobile apps and improve UX and UI of our apps.

How your work will look like:

- ✓ Develop cross platform mobile applications with Flutter for Android and iOS
- ✓ Implement and design the user interface for the mobile applications
- ✓ Connect to wearable devices via Bluetooth Low Energy and ANT+
- ✓ Communicate the recorded data to our cloud services via Websockets and RESTful APIs

What we expect from you:

- ✓ An applicant who is enthusiastic about technology and who has already gained initial experience with mobile cross platform development
- ✓ You like to take on responsibility, organize projects and communicate in German and English.
- ✓ You identify with our products and wants to make the lives of our customers better, healthier and safer.

You have already developed mobile applications and you have gained first knowledge in cross platform development frameworks Xamarin or Flutter. You are keen to improve your skills and like to work in an exciting company.

Do you recognize yourself? Then apply now at ambiotex. We digitize security. If you like to share this passion with us, we look forward to hearing from you and to getting to know each other at an upcoming meeting.
